Ask Inquiry Into the Guelph Affair

President of Guelph Ministerial Association Tells of Raid on Miners' Lodge

(From Canadian Alberta, Sept. 25) over 1000 people unanimously demanded a resolution last night following the address of Rev. H. K. Palmer, at Guelph, in support of the miners' miners' strike movement inaugurated by the Miners' Protective Association of Ontario, of which Mr. Palmer is president, calling upon the Dominion government to take steps to force full and prompt investigation of all the circumstances in connection with the raid on the last of the Jesuit Novitiate colleges, where 15 young men were evading the "red regulations." The result of the raid was that the association had had nothing to do with the miners' strike, and that it would wait until five days after its occurrence to charge the press of Guelph and Toronto with in fact of the entire country, with spinelessness, attempting to conceal the facts.

Mr. Palmer also stated that the association had had nothing to do with the miners' strike, and that it would wait about 15 days before it charged the press of Guelph and Toronto with in fact of the entire country, with spinelessness, attempting to conceal the facts.

Cap. Michael McPherson, who entered the novitiate, has refused to answer any questions, but said that he and two others refused to make the facts known to the press, as they had not been instructed by the Canadian and American Press that it must not be mentioned that they had not received the permission of the censor to do so. Cap. McPherson, who was afraid that his superior officers might

Mr. Palmer by the military authorities.

In answer to a question from a member of the audience, Mr. Palmer said that the miners' miners' strike stand in the debate in the house of commons, and that the energy from military service, did not interfere with the miners' strike.

The miners' strike was in the interest of creating a clause which would be included in the Charter of Ministers.

The speaker charged that Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of War, was not available at the time when he was present, knowing that his son was of military age, and that the miners' strike was a result of the miners' strike.

Mr. Palmer said he had very little time to speak, but that he would like to have Col. McPherson inform him that there should be no inquiry.

Cap. McPherson, an officer who entered the novitiate, has refused to answer any questions, but said that he and two others refused to make the facts known to the press, as they had not been instructed by the Canadian and American Press that it must not be mentioned that they had not received the permission of the censor to do so.

Cap. McPherson, who was afraid that his superior officers might start a parade.

A terrific crowd attended the Canadian Legion hall, where the turnstiles clicked steadily.

People were anxious to get in before they could get in. Previous to the opening, a sales band of percussionists were present, and the place was filled with a band of determined Amazons, who sang with great gusto.

The miners' strike was in the interest of creating a clause which would be included in the Charter of Ministers.

At eight o'clock the Carnival was opened by Mrs. J. H. Toland, who presided over the band stand, held in the presence of Master-of-Ceremonies.

Early hour such a hubbub that one could hardly hear themselves think.

Mr. Evans announced that she was sure the carnival was going to be a success.

The barker redounded their hands.

MENDELSSOHN CHORAL SOCIETY

WILLIAMSON CHORAL SOCIETY

The executive committee of the Edmonton Mendelssohn Chorals have been actively working throughout the past week in compiling the details of the proposed new constitution of the Mendelssohn and non-Mendelssohn bands on which the chorals will be based. The constitution will be submitted to the members for approval of all who have been asked to co-operate in the movement.

The Hon. W. G. Orman, Minister of His Honor the Lieutenant Governor of Alberta, the Hon. Chas. Rossiter, member of the province; His Worship Mayor, Mr. John W. Vassall, etc.

These gentlemen have been interviewed personally in hearty accord with the project.

Unanimous among the expressions of unanimity and support was that given by the city fathers and the directors of the city.

In order to leave nothing undone in bringing the chorals into existence, the committee decided to form a musical advisory board and appointed a representative to interview the following: Vernon L.M., Wilbur G. Grant, A.T.C.M., E.M. Clegg, Dr. J. H. MacLennan, etc.

The cordial reception given to the chorals has been most spontaneous and generous in manner in which each of these genial board indicates a splendid spirit of co-operation and mutual interest in the musical fraternity of the city.

The chorals are now travelling about the city, giving their first concert in December, and the full season's program will be set.

This choir will also introduce to the public the Mendelssohn Chorals and community sing-alongs, or community singing.

These sing-alongs have been started since that country entered the war, and the chorals hope to continue them.

The purpose of the sing-alongs is to get the people to sing, and the people are invited to join.

In these days of sorrow and bereavement we have to sing the better to comfort ourselves under the auspices of one or other of the war funds.

Executive members, conductors and others connected with the Mendelssohn Chorals are throwing their best energies into making the new organization a success through the efficient organization and the support and co-operation of the musical profession.

can detect the breathing of the singer. There is no better instrument made, and we are proud to say it is "made in Canada."

The Phonola

has always been in a leading position among sound-reproducing instruments, but the latest Phonola is decidedly in a class by itself. The addition of pipes to the sound-reproducing mechanism gives a mellowness and sweetnes of tone that is really remarkable, while at the same time the human voice is reproduced with startling realism. So exact, so true and so minute is the reproduction that a careful listener can detect the breathing of the singer. There is no better instrument made, and we are proud to say it is "made in Canada."

ONE BY ONE THEY JOIN

THE NORTHERN PRODUCTION CO., LIMITED

COMMERCIAL

When Mr. C. T. M. Sapsford resigned his position as Advertising Manager of the Edmonton Bulletin last March, and joined in Mr. A.F.A. Coyne's enterprise the first step was taken in connecting up the gradually growing corporation and a very favorable impression was thus created in certain circles in Edmonton. Asked by a prominent business man in Edmonton why he was making the change in face of the reputation which Mr. Coyne had, he replied: "My 20 years' connection with newspaper work has led me to a conclusion that whenever a young man started out on a big undertaking he was bound to be attacked. Political intrigue and commercial jealousy were at the bottom of it, and when a man can stand pat, develop his undertaking and grow rapidly, despite the onslaughts, my judgment is, firstly that there was something to the man who was the subject of attack, and, secondly, a business that could thrive especially in these years and overwhelm a conspiracy, must have some bottom to it." That his judgment was correct has been of great moral and financial benefit to The Northern Production Company.

A New Appointment

The next to come in line with Mr. Coyne is just a continuation of a few appointments which are in the making. Cautious steps must be taken in building a successful corporation and in mining it is a necessity to have at the head of the Engineering Branch a man of high standing and repute in Mechanical Affairs. A constant look-out has been kept and this week saw the end of lengthy preliminaries with the appointment of Mr. J. Y. DUNCAN, who will now associate himself exclusively in the employ of the company. Mr. Duncan comes from Montreal to take over the Executive work of our Mechanical and Engineering Dept. That the Company has procured an excellent man can be seen from a glimpse of his past record. As Construction Engineer for the ALLIS-CHALMERS-BULLOCK CO., Montreal, later he held the position of electrical superintendent of the Filtration Plant of the City of Montreal, and up till recently was Power Superintendent of the BRITISH-AMERICAN NICKEL CORPORATION, whose output of nickel is the greatest in the world. That the approaching work of The Northern Production Co. compels the employment of Mr. Duncan speaks volumes in favor of the rapid strides the company is making, and the class of men who are taking up the executive positions under Mr. Coyne's direction is a tribute which defies argument.

To the Holders of Shares of the Great Northern Oil and Asphalt Co., Ltd.

In the year 1914 the affairs of this company were so conducted that it came into a precarious financial position. In the year 1915 it was in the hands of its creditors, its plan having been seized by the sheriff. At that time Mr. Coyne, who at no time previous had anything to do with the company, directly or indirectly, and who was never before connected with any oil promotions, took over the company, which he believed to be a good oil prospect. His object was to attempt to re-interest the 2200 shareholders of the company and see if they could be got together and right the company. After spending $2800 in letters and circulars to the shareholders he was unsuccessful, with the result that he quit. He, therefore, cannot be held responsible morally or legally for the collapse of the company. It had collapsed before he had anything to do with it. However, he succeeded in interesting about 50 Alberta farmers who held stock, and as sufficient money could not be got to continue his work with the company, and as these farmers and himself were content to prosecute their belief in oil in Northern Alberta, they formed a new company and went ahead, and withdrew their interest from the old Great Northern. For example, if ten men owned a big farm, and it failed and the mortgage on it came due, and nothing could be done to meet it, then all those who had given credit to the farm wanted their money, and the ten men couldn't pay. Three of these men join another man, and then attempt to get the other seven men to stay with it, and each share up. They fail to induce the seven men, then they forget that they ever had anything to do with the farm and the three men of the old farm join the new man who had no interest in the old farm, and start a new farm, and the new farm is a success, have the properties of the new farm got to come back and take the old farm in with the new and successful farm? NO, OF COURSE NOT. The same is the case with Mr. Coyne, his 50 farmers and the 2200 shareholders of the Great Northern. They did their bit. The 2200 shareholders didn't. They couldn't afford to put up all the money and carry the 2200 as they weren't millionaires. That's the whole story in a nutshell. He who would ask the three farmers of the new farm to go back and take in the old farm is a damfool. However, if two or three years later a few of the fellows who were in on the old farm see that the new farm is a success and it was the only sensible way of doing business after all, and they come along to the fellows who went into the new farm and say, "We begin to see that you were right, and we will want to continue in the business because things look different now," what would you expect the fellows who were in on the new farm to do? SAY, "ALLRIGHT Jones, Bill and Brown, come in; we are Christian Socialists; we divide up anything we make and don't ask a cent?" NO, OF COURSE NOT. But they are square they say. All right, Jones, Bill and Brown, you see we weren't such a bunch of suckers after all when we went into this new farm with this new man and left the old mortgaged, sheriff-seized farm on the hill. If you will come along with us and put up your share then we can get a gasoline tractor and a few more things and some more land and the farm will be bigger and it will pay us all. THAT WOULD BE BUSINESS. That's the whole proposition in a nutshell. The fifty farmers who stayed with Mr. Coyne were joined with more farmers and are still being joined with more, for they are beginning to see that the new idea was the only choice. These 148 farmers have put up $50,000, and the mill goes merrily on. The old Great Northern with its 2200 shareholders spent $30,000 and had a 60-acre oil lease and a rusty old plant. Through various circumstances it collapsed. Mr. Coyne and his 50 farmers had nothing to do with the collapse. The Calgary oil boom, the war, and a host of other things brought about this condition. Now the new company has 148 shareholders. This small group of interested Albertans have put up $50,000. They have two complete drilling outfits, one in operation right now pounding the dicken out of the earth 700 feet down. Preparations for the biggest dynamite charge to be blown off are under way. The big explosion will take some doing. It takes two thousand feet of electric wiring, and a cavity has been worked in the great Devonian arch and into this cavity is going the 3000 lbs. of dynamite. Some time in the next four weeks the button will be pressed and we will rip the dicken out of the earth 800 feet below. If there is oil there it will rush up over the derrick. If there is none, then we did our bit to test it out. That there has been all along the greatest oil seepages give the shareholders of the Northern Production Co. every confidence in the outcome. There are a lot of people who are believing that there has been a lot of fight against Mr. Coyne, but they wouldn't be a bit surprised to see Mr. Coyne come in with the first real commercial well. 3000 lbs. of dynamite will rip the tale away. We have 20,000 acres of oil leases, camps, warehouses, etc.—a real going concern, and a bunch of darn good, honest, well-to-do Alberta farmers who have the absolute proven confidence in the brains who is directing the whole project.

One Thing That Must Be Admitted

Every year we will contribute money to drill a well. It's a cinch we will find it in ten wells—probably this one, probably the next one, but ten holes can be drilled. If it happened that luck was against us and we find it in the tenth well. ALRIGHT. The money we have then spent will all come back and a big pile more. So we would be better off then by far, for the last ten years on a farm never made us any money to blow about. ARE THESE FARMERS RIGHT? If they and Mr. Coyne agree mutually to go ahead and do this then, as British subjects, whose business is to interfere. NOW SUPPOSING THOSE 148 FARMERS AND MR. COYNE WANT TO GIVE 50,000 SHARES FREE TO THE RETURNED SOLDIERS. AND IT WON'T COST THEM A CENT. Is that not a commendable thing? If we strike the real dope which we know we will, then this block of stock will pay each of its beneficiaries a good sum of money. You will always find that the farmer's heart is in the right place. The soldiers get it because they fought for it. It belongs to them. While we were getting in on the good things while the sun shone they were in France fighting in a veritable hell when the sun shone, and we give it because we feel they are entitled to it by RIGHT.

If Oil is struck in commercial quantity, then the Northern Production will have a real producer, and 20,000 acres of highly valuable oil lands. It will put Alberta on the map as a real oil field, and shown that a few small fellows can do something where the big guy with all his Bolsheviks can only sit back and criticize. If we don't get oil then we have made a real, genuine, honest try at it, and we won't worry if we lose all our $50,000. Ask any of the farmers. But what is more, we have so much faith in our oil field that this coming spring we will sink another well. At a meeting held at Mr. Coyne's house at which 15 delegates of the farmers met, it was resolved that there is oil in Alberta and in the Athabasca River Valley.

SO IF YOU HOLD ANY GREAT NORTHERNS AND YOU WANT TO JOIN THE NORTHERN PRODUCTION COMPANY AND HAVE THAT SPIRIT, THEN WRITE TO P.O. BOX 1572, TO J.R. COYNE, EX 51ST BATT. RETURNED FROM FRANCE. SCORES OF OTHERS ARE DOING IT, WHY NOT YOU?

TO THE RETURNED SOLDIERS FREE OFFER

In reply to my last week's offer of a certificate for 100 shares free we have with us now 64 of the comrades. This advertisement will bring a bunch more and as soon as it goes the rounds of the bunch all will be coming along. The offer is only to books from the men who have signed up with you mentioned above you are going to set aside 25 per cent. of the company's stock to be given all men as they return from France, Canada wide. MONEY didn't keep the Germans out of the Romanian oil fields, neither will it keep them out of the Alberta oil fields. There is only one thing that keeps them out and that is bullets. We are the boys who do the shooting. Then we won't have to pay a host of guys princely salaries to do the work. The way some fellows preach to us they would think that we didn't see through the veil of their stage game. The success of the Northern Production Co. is the first in Canada to recognize this RIGHT and will pay its dues by way of 25 per cent of its capital stock. There is no better heating about the bush and smutting a lot of soft soap about the boys and the like. SHUT UP. We are the ones who paid the price and spent the money. Every family in the Western country has a son, a brother or somebody at the front. If these families are going to be taxed to pay the small pensions, etc., then it is an endless chain game. Each family might as well take over its own crippled and gas wrecks, and foot the bill direct. Then we won't have to pay a host of guys princely salaries to do the
